

RELATE

Which is your idea of a great vacation? 1) visiting distant family 2) amusement park 3) camping 4) destination resort 5) beach bumming 6) road trip

If you designed a mission trip or service project, what would it be about?

What principle, insight or idea was meaningful to you from this week's sermon?

READ Luke 10:25-37; 38-42

In this story of the Good Samaritan, what was each passerby focused on?

In the account of Jesus at Mary and Martha's home, what was most important to each woman? Why?

In each account, who does Jesus commend and why? How are Mary and the Good Samaritan alike? Is there a difference between paying attention to a neighbor and paying attention to Jesus?

Place yourself in each story. Which person are you most often like? How?

Have you ever knowingly passed by someone in need because you were preoccupied? How did you make that decision?

Share a time that you went out of your way to help a neighbor. Is this rare or frequent for you?

In your typical day between work and home, how do you focus on Jesus' presence in your activities? Give examples of ways you do this.

REFLECT

What distracted you from recklessly abandoning yourself to Jesus this week? What one thing can you do to change that?

RESPOND

Pray for the Van Wageningen's ministry, and for Outlook's Overflow Weekend. Pray that God will show us all he can do when we abandon ourselves to him. Pray that God will help us notice the people around us that he wants to serve.

RELATE

Which is your idea of a great vacation? 1) visiting distant family 2) amusement park 3) camping 4) destination resort 5) beach bumming 6) road trip

If you designed a mission trip or service project, what would it be about?

What principle, insight or idea was meaningful to you from this week's sermon?

READ Luke 10:25-37; 38-42

In this story of the Good Samaritan, what was each passerby focused on?

In the account of Jesus at Mary and Martha's home, what was most important to each woman? Why?

In each account, who does Jesus commend and why? How are Mary and the Good Samaritan alike? Is there a difference between paying attention to a neighbor and paying attention to Jesus?

Place yourself in each story. Which person are you most often like? How?

Have you ever knowingly passed by someone in need because you were preoccupied? How did you make that decision?

Share a time that you went out of your way to help a neighbor. Is this rare or frequent for you?

In your typical day between work and home, how do you focus on Jesus' presence in your activities? Give examples of ways you do this.

REFLECT

What distracted you from recklessly abandoning yourself to Jesus this week? What one thing can you do to change that?

RESPOND

Pray for the Van Wageningen's ministry, and for Outlook's Overflow Weekend. Pray that God will show us all he can do when we abandon ourselves to him. Pray that God will help us notice the people around us that he wants to serve.

